

BOBBY CLEVELAND CARES

He's Oklahoma's small town mayor of the year for 2012

Bobby Cleveland cares about our small town communities. He's the mayor of Slaughterville. Bobby was recently named Mayor of the Year by the Oklahoma Municipal League (OML), the group that represents over 400 Mayors and City Managers throughout Oklahoma.

Here's what the OML said about Bobby:

“Bobby has a compassion when it comes to helping victims of a disaster. Bobby was the first on site after a tornado hit the Slaughterville area two years ago. He set up a tent and helped with food and clothing for three days before the Red Cross arrived.” During the recent wild fires Bobby worked tirelessly helping the victims who had lost their homes. Even after losing his own home last November to a fire Bobby never stooped helping others in the Slaughterville area.”

BOBBY CLEVELAND WILL STAND UP FOR OUR SMALL TOWNS AND RURAL WAY OF LIFE.

I have worked with Bobby on a daily basis during his time as Mayor. He is a great leader, and I am proud to endorse him.
—Chief Paul Long, Slaughterville Volunteer Firefighter

Bobby and his family are longtime residents of our area. He will work hard for us at the Capitol.
—Carey Sherman, Norman pharmacist whose family settled in Lexington in the 1889 Landrun

Bobby Cleveland is a small town Mayor, and he will stand up for our communities at the Capitol.
